CHAIRMAN'S UPDATE

Many thanks to Paul Lardizzone who shepherded the Commission as its Chairman for the past two years and successfully expanded services and outreach throughout the State. During the September meeting, previous Vice Chairman Dr. Ron Sarg was elected to be the Commission's new Chairman. Dr. Sarg has spearheaded numerous legislative initiatives and continues to pursue advances in recognition for "those who have served" by law enforcement, health care professionals, and schools serving children of military and veteran families. Bill Farley, is now the newly elected Vice Chairman who has been a stalwart advocate for creating employment opportunities for veterans, martialing resources for homelessness, and support of programs managing Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) and Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI). Commissioners Sarg and Farley recognize veterans' needs across the State and encourage organizations to share information and resources by participating in the new "Delaware Joining Forces (DJF)" that was inaugurated at the 2014 Veterans Mental Health Summit on September 10th. DJF replaces the highly successful Veterans Services Directory and encourages organizations to further expand their network and develop new partnerships of working in collaboration to improve the quality of life for service members, veterans, and their families and for the betterment of their community. Executive Director John Knotts is retiring this December with 16 years of State service and will relocate with his family in California.

VETERANS APPLE PIE SOCIAL ANNUAL EVENT

White Clay Creek State Park has hosted the Veterans Day Storytelling program at the lovely Judge Morris Estate on Polly Drummond Hill Road for over a decade. Veteran groups and individuals have shared stories of the war and home-front efforts with interested visitors each year at an event the Sunday closest to Veterans Day. Perkins Restaurant has donated delicious pies that are served with tea or coffee on the patio or inside the estate.

White Clay Creek State Park continues to sponsor this program to honor all our local veterans and all supporting individuals from all the conflicts in recent history.

For the past few years Korean War Vet, George Taylor, brought his trumpet and played the Star Spangled Banner and Taps as he has for countless veteran funeral services over the years.

Last year a member of the Project Healing Waters: Fly-fishing for Veterans came and did a demonstration of fly fishing and fly tying.

The Veterans Day Apple Pie Social is an enjoyable and special event that all are encouraged to attend: either as a volunteer to share your stories or to display your wartime memorabilia.

Please invite your families, friends and neighbors this year: Sunday, November 9, 2014, 1:00 -3:00 pm at the Judge Morris Estate on Polly Drummond Hill Road. Call the Park Office to register to attend 302-368-6900 or see below to volunteer.

Request for volunteers – event to honor veterans

NEW PROVIDERS REPORT TO KENT COUNTY CBOC

After many months of searching, Veterans in Kent County, DE now have two new health care providers at the Community Based Outpatient Clinic in Dover, DE.

“We are so pleased to welcome Dr. Robert Rofles and Dr. Patricia Mundo to the VA,” said Robin C. Aube-Warren, director of the Wilmington VA Medical Center. “Bringing these physicians onboard will significantly impact access concerns that some area Veterans experienced while the recruitment process was completed. We are working to improve our processes so we don't face similar situations when providers leave unexpectedly.” The new providers will assume an existing patient panel of nearly 1,900 Veterans who use the Kent County CBOC for their primary care.

Most recent VA
Access Audit Data

At the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), our most important mission is to provide the high quality health care and benefits Veterans have earned and deserve — when and where they need it. In mid-April, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs directed the Veterans Health Administration (VHA) to complete a nation-wide Access Audit to ensure a full understanding of VA's policy among scheduling staff, identify any inappropriate scheduling practices used by employees regarding Veteran preferences for appointment dates, and review waiting list management.

KOREAN WAR MEMORIAL DEDICATED

Local veterans and dignitaries gathered at the Kent County Veterans Memorial Park in Dover Sunday to dedicate the new Korean War Memorial. The monument, made of black granite, is cut in the shape of the state of Delaware.

On July 27, 1953, at 10:40 a.m., the fighting stopped in Korea after three difficult years of conflict.

The Korean War has sometimes been called “Forgotten War” or the “Unknown War” because of the lack of public attention it received.

But on Sunday, veterans marked the 61st anniversary of the cease-fire between North and South Korea by dedicating the new Korean War Memorial at Kent County Veterans Memorial Park in Dover. The ceremony, hosted by Vietnam Veterans of America Kent County Chapter 850, paid tribute to the men and women who fought in the war.

"We thank the Vietnam vets so much because they really did all the work," said keynote speaker Daniel Coons, a Korean War veteran who served as an U.S. Army intelligence analyst.

"We are old guys ... so we couldn't have done it without them."

Dave Skocik, president of the Delaware Veterans Coalition and a member of the local Vietnam Veterans of America chapter, said plans for the monument started about a year ago.

Over the years, he said, they had discussed the idea, and then George Goss, immediate past president of the Delaware Korean War Veterans Association, said he wanted to press forward with the monument.

"Dave, you guys have done one heck of a job for us, I'll tell you," Mr. Goss said in his remarks.

"I have wanted a monument in Dover for years, and we finally made it, thanks to you guys. Thank you very, very much."

The monument, made of black granite cut in the shape of Delaware, is modeled after one in Georgetown. An inscription reads: "In honor and memory of all Korean War veterans who served and died for freedom."

"This monument is well, well overdue," agreed Nick Schroeder, the current president of the Delaware Korean War Veterans Association.

The Vietnam Veterans of America chapter helped through the sale of bricks and contributions, Mr. Skocik said.

"It's amazing (the amount of) people who get up and write a check just because," he said. "It's so nice when you get a surprise check somebody sends on in."

The new memorial ensures that those who lost their lives in the Korean War are not forgotten.

"...I now have a place when I want to remember buddies," Mr. Coons said, starting to tear up. "I can come sit here and remember all the wonderful parts and the bad parts."

Mr. Coons also founded the Airway Science Program at Delaware State University. From 1977 through 1987, he served in the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary as a command pilot and division commander flying interdiction and search-and-rescue missions. In 2011, he was inducted into Delaware Aviation Hall of Fame.

"You have no idea what it was like to come home from war and just be totally ignored, or rotten teenagers say nasty things to you while you're in uniform, after coming back and watching your buddies die for them," Mr. Coons said after the ceremony.

In his remarks, he recounted difficult battles and ticked off the elements of the United State forces that served in the Korean War, and the casualties they sustained.

"As this wonderful monument and wonderful memorial proves, we are not forgotten," he said. "May God bless our country and God bless America."

At the close of the ceremony, the names of 11 Kent County men who died in the war were read aloud, a bell rung after each name.

The memorial park on South Little Creek Road is already the home of the Vietnam Memorial and the Gold Star Mother and Families Memorial. Plans are in the works for a memorial for veterans of Middle East conflicts.

"Parks like this tap into many people out there that you're not even aware of," Mr. Skocik said.

"Even people who have never served, if they knew someone or they want to be a part of it, they want to honor those who serve."

A form to order inscribed bricks at the site is available at www.DelawareVVA.com and click on the memorial link, or call 697-8384 for more information. (Delaware State News, July 28, 2014)

DELAWARE VETERANS TREATMENT COURT EXPANDING TO SUSSEX COUNTY EFFECTIVE 30 OCTOBER 2014

The Delaware Veterans Treatment Court assists justice-involved veterans with mental health and substance abuse issues to obtain necessary services and reduce recidivism. Over 80 percent of Veterans offered the opportunity to enter this life changing program successfully complete their personalized rehabilitation program and less than 10% ever become negatively involved with the justice system again.

As a subdivision of the Mental Health Court, the mission of this court is to work with veterans who have been charged with felony or misdemeanor non-violent criminal offense(s) and divert eligible veteran-defendants with substance dependency and/or mental health issues from traditional court processing to a treatment-based problem-solving model court. Veterans are identified through specialized screening and assessments and voluntarily participate in a judicially supervised treatment plan developed by a team comprised of Deputy Attorney General, Defense council and court staff, veteran health care professionals, veteran peer mentors and other health and mental health care professionals. Upon admission to the Veterans Treatment Court, the court staff, health care professionals and mentors assist the veteran with an array of stabilization and other services.

Founded in Kent County by Judge William L. Witham Jr in 2011, the court expanded to New Castle County in 2013 under Judge Jan R. Jurden. The court is now expanding to provide statewide coverage with the opening of a branch in Sussex County on 30 October 2014 under Judge Richard L. Stokes. Delaware should be especially proud of this example of Delaware Joining Forces to have the community help Veterans and to have veterans volunteer to help the community. (Bill Gay, Mentor Sussex County Veterans Treatment Court)

DELAWARE MILITARY HERITAGE AND EDUCATION FOUNDATION TO ACQUIRE NEW MUSEUM FACILITY

The Delaware Military Heritage and Education Foundation (DMHEF) has acquired a new facility at the Frank Stern National Guard Armory on Newport Gap Pike in Wilmington. As a result of recent cascading facility moves by the Delaware National Guard, set in motion by the new Armed Forces Reserve Center opening, the Stern Armory has been re-purposed as a military museum. After renovations are complete, the DMHEF will assume responsibility for the management and care of the building.

The Delaware Military Heritage and Education Foundation anticipates opening the doors to the public in the summer of 2015 as a museum dedicated to Delaware military history. Plans include interior exhibit space, a research library, a military archive, and offices for staff. There will also be conference facilities for classes and groups. The Foundation anticipates this will be the site of educational lectures, films, children’s events, and exhibits.

The Foundation’s Delaware military collection includes scores of uniforms, thousands of images, tools and implements, along with flags, artwork, scrapbooks, military insignia and more. Their intent is to tell the story of Delaware’s contribution to America’s defense.

VETERANS UNITED OUTREACH OF DELAWARE

The Veterans United Outreach of Delaware was started in May 2001, under Kent County Chapter 850, Vietnam Veterans of America. The VVA motto is “Never again will one generation of veterans abandon another.” This motto has been taken to heart by those who started the outreach program. The purpose of this program is to reach out to all military/veteran brothers and sisters on educational, physical, mental, emotional and spiritual levels, so as to guide them to freedom and comfort in their own lives. They work with all who are willing to help accomplish their goals.

The Outreach networks with federal, state and local agencies and coordinates with all organizations in Delaware. Through it all, they are constantly changing and growing.

They are a veterans committee with a foundation in God, Country, and Freedom, to which they credit the sacrifices of our active duty military, our veterans, and their families. (Mike Snyder, 302-678-1285)
